The building system
taking events to the edge of architecture.

INS PIRE

Go beyond ordinary.
Engage crowds, elevate brands, energise spaces.
Every build is engineered to impress and built to last.

ENG AGE

Your event at the heart of action. From striking kiosks to double-height WOW factors, each structure is a stage for connection.

ELEVATE

Create immersive environments that feel like your brand from the moment people arrive. Clean lines. Bold finishes. Design that does more than look good.

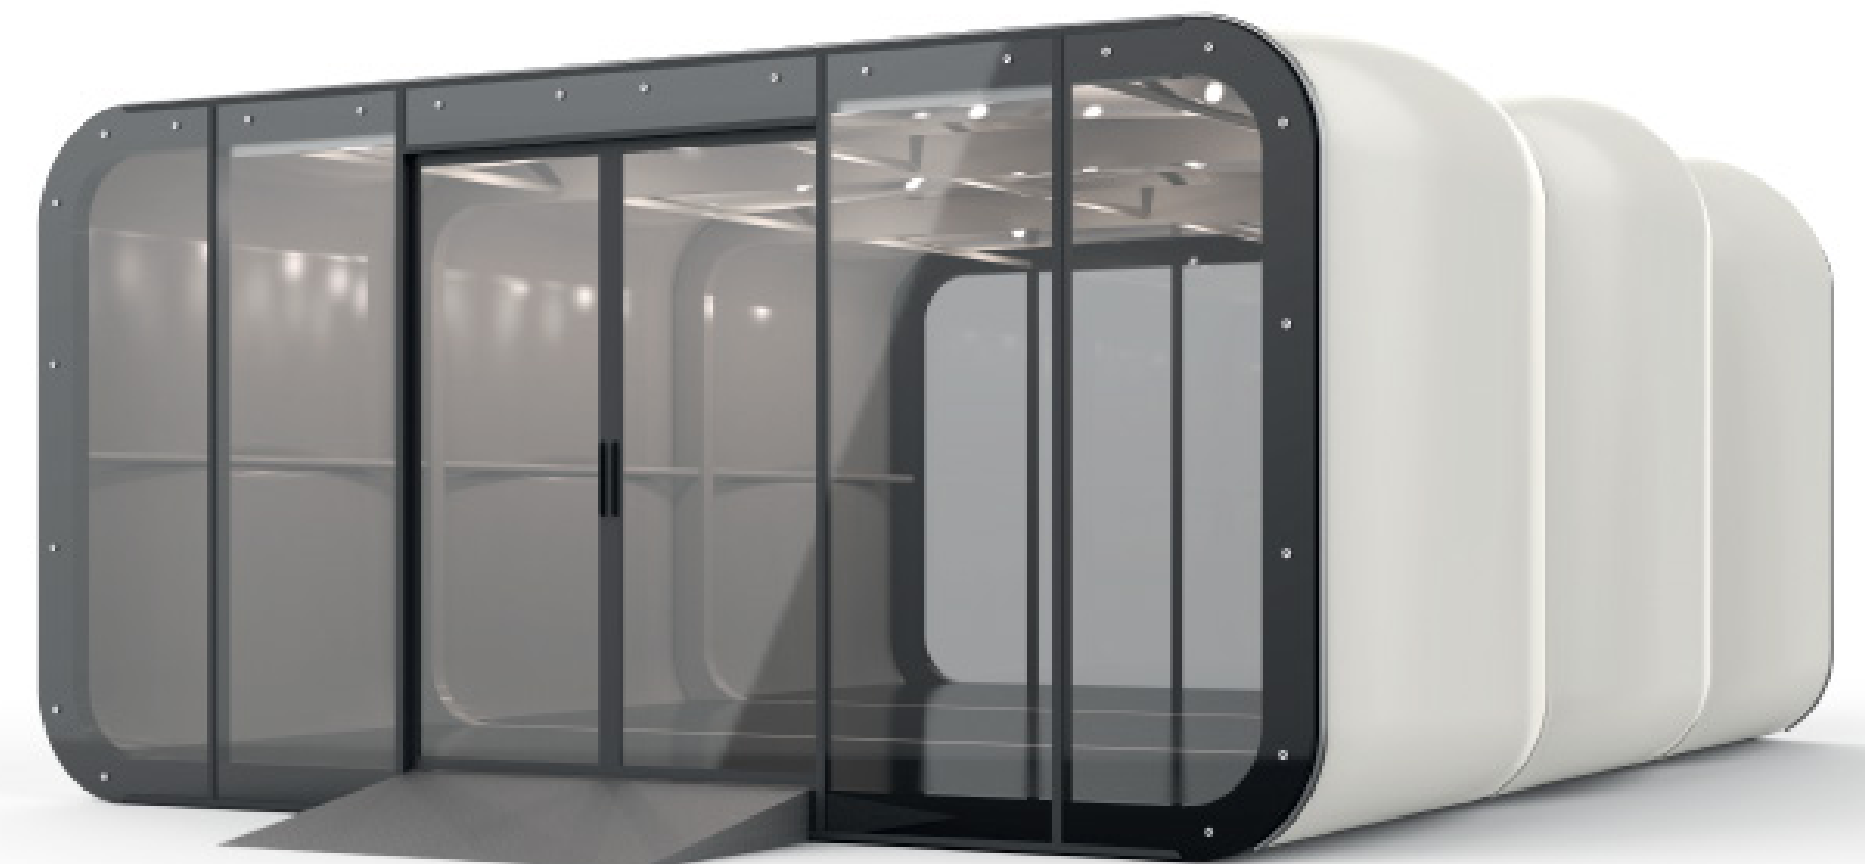

AirClad X redefines temporary spaces with modular, portable, design-led solutions ideal for events, retail activations, and experiential campaigns. Whether you need a standout retail pop-up, a sleek event structure, or an inspiring brand activation, AirClad X delivers.

Purposefully designed with premium aesthetics and rapid installation in mind, each structure creates a memorable experience while reflecting modern architectural excellence. Lightweight yet durable, they are suited to both indoor and outdoor use, standing up to the elements with ease.

Available in New Zealand and drawing inspiration from global innovation, AirClad X embodies a commitment to sustainability. Every structure is designed to reduce waste, reuse materials and minimise environmental impact, helping you showcase your brand in an eco-conscious way.

IMPACTFUL.

AirClad X is the future of event architecture made simple.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

“AirClad X completely transformed our event.
The setup was seamless, the design was stunning, and it left a lasting impression on our audience. It delivered exactly what we needed – and more.”

– Emily Carter, Marketing Director

AirClad X has been around since 2014.

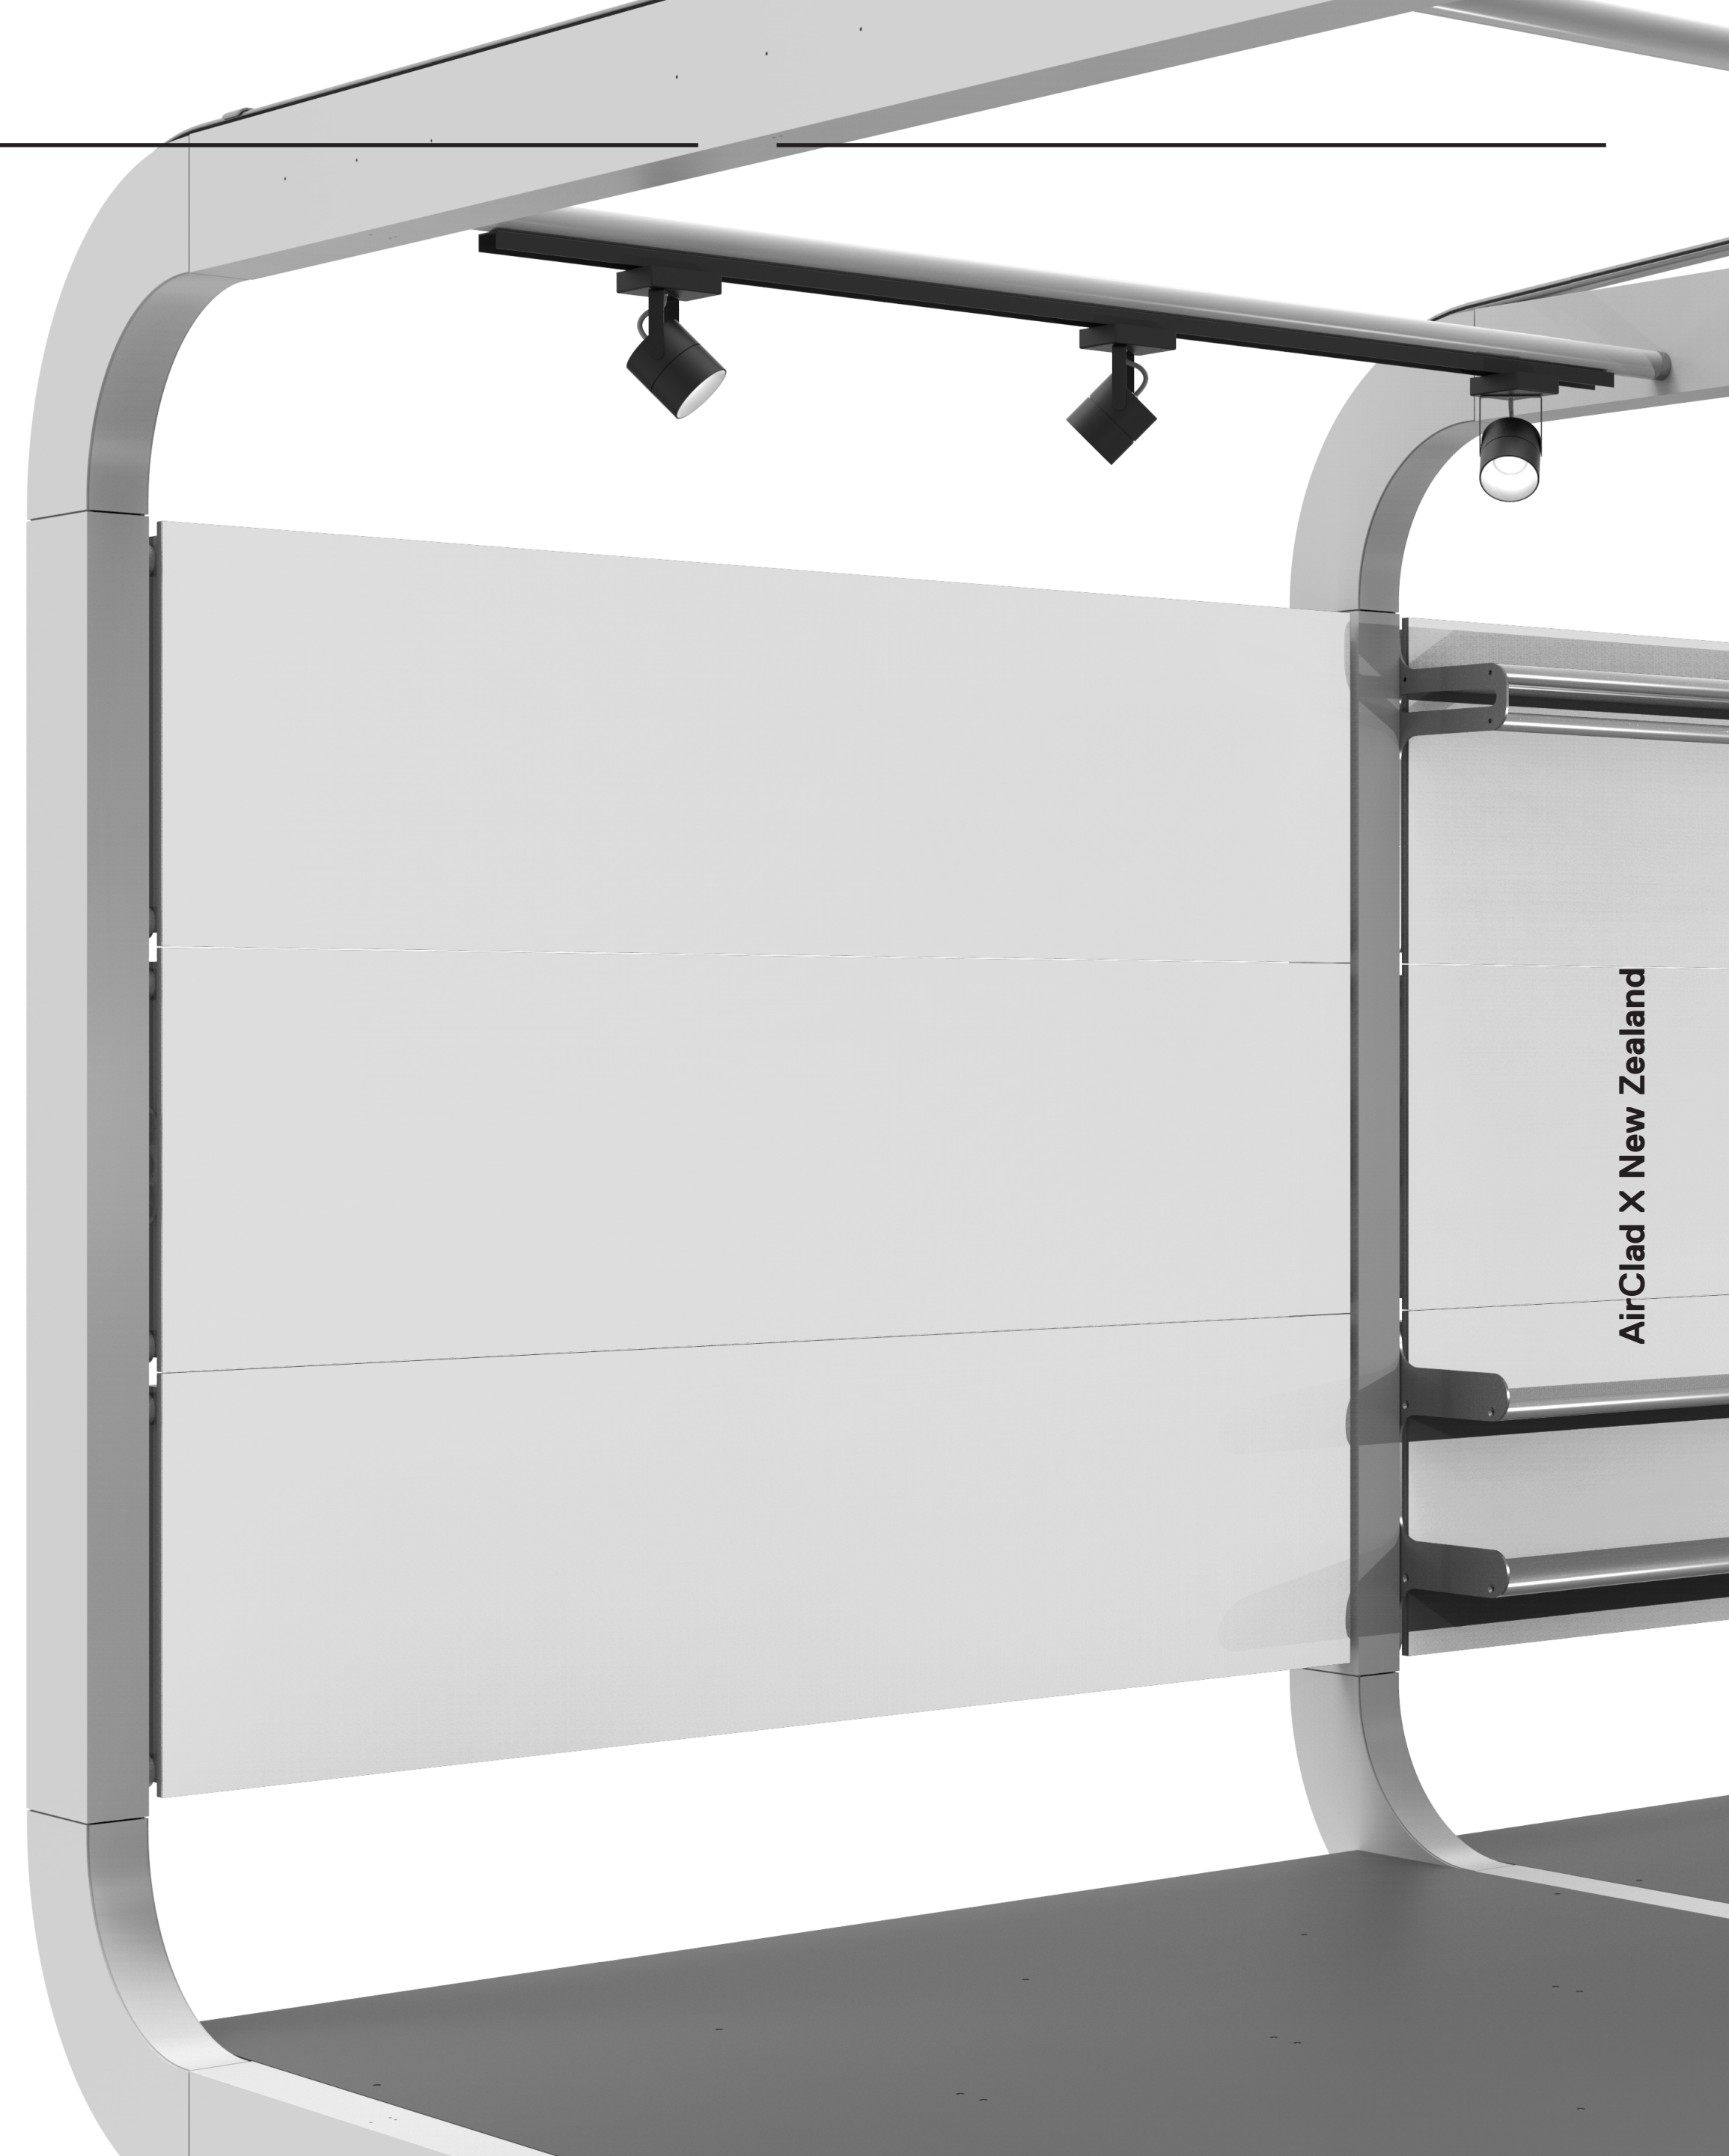

The Story of AirClad X is rooted in perhaps one of the biggest events in the World.

It was born out of a project creating a portable event space for PUMA and The VOLVO Ocean races. Ever since, the AirClad X range has grown, covering anything from small pop up sleeping pods to multi-storey event retail spaces, with an exciting 2020 launch of a full interior shop fit system to fit inside all the systems.

In 2020 we began to talk to the AirClad X team in the UK about bringing the product to New Zealand.

Then COVID-19 hit the world stage and those talks were put on the backburner. Now though, there's light at the end of the tunnel. It looks like events and experiential campaigns will begin again in 2022. So we invested in the range and we're delighted to be the sole distributor of AirClad X in New Zealand.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

“Fast to install, easy to modify,
and the finish is next-level. We delivered on time, under stress, and AirClad X made us look sharp doing it.””

– Matt R., Project Manager

– Sarah K., Events Manager

Sustainability at the Core

At AirClad X, we believe in doing more with less.

Our approach to sustainability is simple but powerful – Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, Repair.
Every structure is designed to create impact while minimising its environmental footprint.

Designed for Durability

Our modular systems are built to last. Each component is engineered for strength and longevity, ensuring our structures can be reused and reassembled time after time. From retail activations to corporate events, AirClad X delivers exceptional performance in even the toughest conditions, reducing the need for disposable solutions.

Recycled and Responsible

We are committed to incorporating recycled materials wherever possible. By 2025, our aim is for all new constructions to be crafted from 100% recycled materials. This ethos reflects our dedication to reducing waste and offering eco-conscious alternatives for brands that care about sustainability.

Repair, Not Replace

When something wears out, we fix it. Every element of our systems is designed to be repairable. This means less waste and more lifecycle value, making our solutions as resource-efficient as they are innovative.

Eco-Conscious Branding

Choosing AirClad X aligns your brand with sustainable practices. Our spaces offer a bold, modern aesthetic while showcasing a genuine commitment to the planet. Impress your audience and build connections with a greener, more forward-thinking future.

Make sustainability part of your story with AirClad X.
